DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claims 21-40 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 6, 8-10, 12, 13 and 15-19 of U.S. Patent No. 6662812 B1. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both teach a method of printing solder and cleaning the stencil by wiping and applying vibrational energy (instant claims 1 and 4 and '812 claims 6, 10, 12 and 15). However the terminology is slightly different and there is no disclosure of ultrasonic vibration. Fluid is applied to the paper used in the process and vacuum is applied (instant claims 3-7 and '812 claims 8, 9 and 16-19).

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention that the target is the circuit board and that the printable medium is solder. Ultrasonic vibration is well known and conventional in the art for both cleaning, drying and solder sphere placement.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claims 21-31, 35, 36, 39 and 40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Nanjyo et al. (USPN 5860361).

Nanjyo teaches an apparatus and method of cleaning a stencil after screen printing by applying fluid and vibration (col 2 lines 1-10, lines 47-60, col 4 lines 45-58 and col 5 line 9 – col 6 line 23).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 21-40 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Asai et al. (USPN 5988060).

Asai teaches an apparatus and method of cleaning a stencil after screen printing (col 16 lines 35-50) by wiping with wet paper (col 28 lines 51-67 and col 41 lines 25-35) and applying ultrasonic vibration through air (col 26 line 58 – col 27 line 10) and the washing fluid. Fluid and vacuum are applied (col 27 lines 11-52 and col 37 lines 8-27). The apparatus comprises mechanisms for aligning areas, placing solder, cleaning the stencil and applying vibrational energy through air or a fluid medium (col 16 lines 35-50 and col 26 line 58 – col 3 line 65). However there is no disclosure of using vibrational energy to dry the stencil.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention that vibration or shaking is an obvious variation of drying with air jets.

Response to Arguments

7. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection and cancellation of the claims.
